Kottkamp Takes Another Straw Poll

TALLAHASSEE, FLA - Lieutenant Governor Jeff Kottkamp continues to gain momentum in his quest to become Florida's next Attorney General. On Saturday, Kottkamp secured another straw poll victory over his Republican counterparts. The Florida Federation of College Republicans (FFCR) overwhelmingly voted the current Lieutenant Governor as the favorite in the upcoming election. The straw poll was held at the University of Central Florida in Orlando during the FFCR Annual Board Meeting. The results were as follows: Jeff Kottkamp 72%, Holly Benson 16%, and Pam Bondi 12%.

"I am extremely excited to win the FFCR straw poll. These students are the future of the Republican Party. Their ideas will shape the direction we take as a party from this point forward. I appreciate the fact that they take such a proactive interest in Florida politics," said Kottkamp.

The Florida Federation of College Republicans (FFCR) is an organization committed to organizing and assisting individual College Republican (CR) chapters and students throughout the state of Florida. Current member chapters include: Florida State University, University of Florida, University of West Florida, Jacksonville University, University of North Florida, University of Central Florida, University of Tampa, Stetson University, University of South Florida, Rollins College, Embry-Riddle University, Florida Institute of Technology, Saint Leo University, University of Miami, Florida International University, Palm Beach Atlantic University, Florida Atlantic University, Florida Gulf Coast University, Barry University, St. Thomas University, Nova University, and Ave Maria University.
